

Reading Story Week 28

“Wow, Aunt Holly! That is a pretty blouse.” My aunt had come to stay at our house for around two weeks. She seemed happy as she picked some flowers from the garden in the backyard.

Just then, she shouted out loudly. She had seen a mouse prowling around in the weeds near the fountain. This left a frown on her face. “Who can come and help me?” Aunt Holly yelled out with a huge shout.

Dad did not hear her. So, Mum and Francis ran out to see how they could help. There was Aunt Holly, crouching down as she hid behind the rubbish bin near the back fence.

“You will be right now,” said Mum. “Come in the house and have a cup of tea.” We went and sat on the couch in the lounge room. “How do you get rid of mice on this farm?” Aunt Holly wanted to know.

“Now, you must not fret about that,” my mum told her as she tipped the tea from the spout of the teapot. “The flowers that you picked are very pretty. Thank you.”

Questions

1. What was my aunt doing in the garden?
2. What gave Aunt Holly such a fright?
3. Who came to help her?
4. How did Mum help her to stop thinking about the mouse?

Reading Sentences Week 28

1. How many blind mice ran up the clock?
2. Every brown cow sat down in the shade near our house.
3. It is now time to sit here on the lounge.
4. Who has seen the pretty teapot with the long skinny spout?
5. The lady who found the mouse yelled out with a loud shout.
6. Did you see who planted the bean sprouts near the fountain?
7. You should go and have your shower, now!
8. Which man was scowling when he went round the side of the tall tower?
9. How did the clown paint such a large mouth on his face?
10. The town is on the south side of this huge mountain.
11. Who did the scout see prowling round in his garden?
12. Why must we bow down when we hear the prince come into the room?